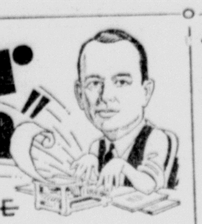
CITY WOULD BUY WATER PLANT

"Our Town"



by J. B. WHITE

In a published booklet the American Farm Bureau Federation gives, among other valuable information, its platform for American agriculture. The ten planks of this platform in condensed form, are as follows:

1. The support of sound and economical production practices.
2. Placing in the hands of producers the control of the sale of farm products.
3. Equality for farmers in the standard of living enjoyed.
4. Adjustments to give the farmer parity with others in purchasing power.
5. Development of schools, roads, rural electrification, churches, health agencies and all other factors contributing to an ideal community environment.
6. Farmer representation on all importont public boards and commissions.
7. A national agriculture policy based on a free and independent farm people as contrasted with foreign peasant systems.
8. The creation of new and enlarged markets for American farm products.
9. Maintenance of that economic system which protects private ownership of property and provides a just reward for individual effort; public protection through regulation; it opposes communism.
10. Providing an organization to supply facilities for group action in building a permanent prosperous, free, independent American agriculture.

Several instances have come to notice recently which seem to discredit the old theory that in order to be a success one should follow a congenial line of work.

It is said that the late Joseph Conrad, the most famous of recent authors of sea stories, hated the sea and detested writing.

O. O. McIntyre tells of a leading and successful New York theatrical producer who has a deep antipathy to actors and actresses and despises the theatre; also of a man who has made a fortune as a florist, but who does not care for flowers and is nauseated by their perfume.

Now comes Irving S. Cobb, one of America's most famous writers and humorists, with the statement that he utterly dislikes writing, but keeps at it because he doesn't want to be a loafer, or words to that effect.

The average newspaper man will tell you that he loathes the eternal grind, but somehow you could not drive him out of it. Many musicians suffer mental torture when before an audience— and so it goes.

These may be exceptions to the rule, but the lesson to be drawn from the instances noted is that determination to do good work will develop ability and bring success, whether one likes his job or not.

Many of the important personages of history have been shorn of much of their supposed greatness by modern historians and near-historians. It was inevitable that old Father Noah should get his debunking in due time, and so it has happened.

Dr. C. Leonard Woolley, noted archaeologist and filed director of the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and British Museum in Mesopotamia, is the debunker. He declares that excavations along the Euphrates show that the Flood of Noah's time, metinoned in the Bible.

NO CLUE IN SAFE ROBBERY SATURDAY

Late Wednesday officers were still without clues in the robbery of the Geo. A. Thomas drug store here Saturday night.

Rush A. Thomas said Monday that jewelry valued at approximately $600 had been stolen from the store when two safes were entered by the robbers.

Trays in which the jewelry was displayed were found in the lobby of Dr. J. S. Hubert's office. Watches and a few diamonds were taken also. No money was lost.

Knobs were knocked from the safes. The robbers apparently took plenty of time. They climbed to the roof by using a drain pipe in the alley. A sky light over the Dr. Hubert office was crashed in.

A chair was kicked over as the men jumped down into the lobby. Exit was made by tearing a lock from the back door.

A silver service kept in a large safe for the Presbyterian church was stolen.

Scrimmage Here With Bremond on September 17th

Coach Wood announced Monday night a scrimmage with Bremond here September 17th. No admission will be charged and the game is not to be considered a contest, but a scrimmage to give both teams a taste of football play.

It will be the first play of the season. The Yoemen open with Caldwell here September 24th in the first non-conference game. Only ten games a year may be played under the Interscolastic League Rules.

Cheeves Brothers Dollar Day Monday

Cheeves Bros. monthly Dollar Day Sale will be held on Monday Sept. 6th. A large display ad in this issue tells about the bargains to be had in this sale.

At the same time the store is clearing out all of its spring and summer goods. Saying good bye to summer, the store is stocking up for fall and winter demands.

Joe McLean Will Attend College Of Marshall

Joe McLean 1936 star back on the Regional Yoemen football team, left Tuesday for the College of Marshall where he will register for the fall term of school as a freshman.

Football practice started at Marshall Wednesday and Joe will try for a place on the team. The school at Marshall is a Junior College. McLean is considered one of the best varsity prospects in Texas. He was an all conference choice and a triple threat man.

Five gypsy babies yelled so lustily when a gypsy band was lodged in a La Porte, Texas, jail that the authorities released the whole outfit to get rid of the noise.

Paul Matocha of Austin is spending the week here guest of Joe Hebner, Jr.

Looking For a Place to Land

About the next jump and cowboy and horse will part company. It is one of the thrills of the rodeo world, being featured this year by the world-wide Will Rogers Memorial rodeo to be conducted Sept. 4, 5 and 6, by the Pikes Peak Polo association on the Broadmoor hotel polo grounds in Colorado Springs, Colo. At the same time the Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun, half a mile above the rodeo grounds on Cheyegne mountain, will be formally dedicated.

Yoemen Start Big Push for '37 Team

The formalities of a general get-together back of them the Yoemen began practice Tuesday afternoon on the field here.

Pink ice cream, a few soft words of encouragement and an outline of the grind ahead by Coach L. C. Wood at the gymnasium Monday night gave the hopefuls for 1937 their first view of the colorful drama of grid play when frost nips the air this fall.

In all 32 men reported, exactly 12 above the number who came for the ice cream last year. The 1937 men on the whole will be heavier. However, a light team is all that may be expected. The Yoemen last year won the District, Bi-District and Regional title. The team was light and fast. The modern football game favors a smart team. Coatings of ivory give a coach more worries than lead in the shoes, so runs the staple comment of the wiseacres.

The Yoemen face a tough schedule. Rockdale with 11 letter men back give the Yoemen their first conference game in early October. The Ducks at Taylor also have 11 letter men back. The Yoemen have four. On the whole the prospect is gloomy. Coach Wood has another impossible task. Only 6 games are to be played here. Rockdale and Taylor come to Cameron. The Yoemen go to Belton this year.

CAMP TELLS ABOUT COUNTY RESOURCES

Emory B. Camp, chairman of the committee on publicity for the Camber of Commerce, recently submitted a survey of Milam County's agricultural resources. His statement follows:

Milam County, situated in the east central black land belt, has a population of approximately 40,000 only three counties in Texas having larger rural population. The largest city in the county is Cameron, with a population of 5000. There is a total city pupulation of approximately 10,000, leaving 30,000 or more people living in the rural districts of Milam County.

Geology

Milam County is an interesting area from a geological standpoint. Little River, the largest stream within the county and the largest tributary of the Brazos, enters Milam County from the west. Along its winding course are thousands of acres of land as fertile as the valley of the Nile. South and north of this river are additional thousands of acres of rich, black prairie soils. The black lands of western Milam County terminate where the river runs north to enter the Brazos. East of Cameron and south in the Rockdale region and along the Missouri Pacific Railroad, east to Milano and Gause lie thousands of acres in the rich sandy and sandy loam soils. These acres produce only a small portion of the annual large cotton crop of the county, but are devoted to the production of fruits, vegetables, melons and general truck crops. In the production of tomatoes, the Milano section of Milam County is not exceeded by any other

BONDS TO BE VOTED

Revenue bearing monds in the sum of $150,000 were authorized by the City Council on Monday night to purchase the properties of the Community Public Service Company or to construct a competing system of water works.

Issuance of the bonds are conditioned on the outcome of an election to be held, the date yet to be announced.

Mayor Chas. C. Smith did not disclose the contents of a report made to him by Mr. Rady, engineer, retained by the council several weeks ago to make a survey to fix the value of the properties of the Community Public Service Company. This report was filed with the Council on Tuesday night.

To Aanounce Details

Mayor Smith said that complete details would be announced next week detail would be announced next week.

City Attorney W. A. Morrison has under advisement now, details of the election call into which will be written the proposals adopted by the council.

The report of Mr. Rady is believed to contain an estimate of the value of the local water utilities. Whether this figure will be used as a basis of purchase will depend on the Community Public Service Company. If submitted to arbitration a third party will be called to serve for the mediation.

Thus far the Community Public Service Company has made no announcement. It was believed that the company, engaged in the distribution of electric service in several states, would be willing to sell its water plant here. The assessed value of the properties on the city tax rolls is $85,000.

The Council was believed to have information which it does not wish to disclose at this time. It was not likely the city would entertain the doubtful adventure of constructing a competing system of water utilities.

Revenue Bonds

The bonds are to be revenue bearing. They differ from ordinary bonds in that they are paid for from revenue out of the plant. However in the event the plant does not pay sufficient profits the city must levy a tax to pay the amount necessary for bond retirement. The securities are a lien upon the plant and are also a lien upon all the property in the city.

Conoley Community To Give Supper Saturday Night

A supper and entertainment for the Union church at Conoley will he held on Saturday night of this week, beginning at 6 o'clock.

Ice cream and cold drinks together with an entertainment program will constitute the main attractions, although many old timers were looking forward to the gathering for the value of its social appeal. Conoley is one of the historic communities of the county.

In Cameron Saturday were W. D. Stiles and J. D. Campbell to announce the supper.

Rebuild Church

The plan is to raise money to rebuild the Union church which is approaching the half century mark. It was built 49 years ago and is used by peoples of all faiths in the com-

More Funds Need For Texas' Aged

Austin, Texas.—Giles L. Avriett, auditor for the old age pension organization, estimated Monday that an extra $3,500,000 would be needed to support the pension program during the fiscal year starting September 11.

He made the calculation in response to an inquiry from the Senate's Efficiency and Economy Committee. The Legislature will be called in special session about Sept. 20, to levy taxes for old age and teachers' pensions and the State's general fund.

Avriett said the $3,500,000 would be sufficient to repay most of a loan of $1,626,487 from a Dallas bank in addition to meeting current requirements. After the loan has been liquidated, he said, only about $2,500,00 extra each year will be required.

More Investigators Wanted.

Avriett suggested that the State would save money in the long run by permitting pension authorities to employ more investigators.

The number of full-time pension organization employees decreased, he said, from 605 in February to 484 in July. He said only 2,449 pension applications were pending at the end of July, compared with 62,725 at the start of the year.

Avriett said pension administrative expenses during the nine months ended Aug. 1, were $800,062.42. Federal and State grants during the same period were $14,370,487. The rolls reached a peak of 127,908 in May, he said. Since then they nave been declining.

Holbrook Has Plan

T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman of the Senate committee, said he believed the State could effect a saving by letting one organization handle old- age pensions, aid to the adult needy blind and dependent children and unemployment relief. He said the Relief Commission had a force of 347 men, nearly three-fourths as large as the old age pension organization, to determine persons eligible for W. P. A. work and supervise distribution of Federal surplus commodities.

Two Teachers Are Named and Salaries Hiked By Board

At a meeting of the Cameron school board on Friday night, two new teachers were elected to fill vacancies in the Yoe high school; teachers salaries were increased 5 per cent. and the board voted for improvement in the colored school.

Miss Frances Sharpe of Cameron was elected for commercial subjects. Miss Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sharpe of this city, is a graduate of the University of Texas.

Miss Virginia Bargaineer of Marlin will be the new librarian, taking the place of Miss LaNelle Love, who resigned recently.

Miss Bargaineer holds an A. B. degree from the University of Texas, and has also attended the State Teachers' College for Women, CIA., Denton.

The board voted to install gas at the colored school and also to have the teachearage of the colored school painted.

COTTON REPORT

There were 7,206 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Milam County from the crop of 1937, prior to August 16, 1937, as compared with 343 bales ginned to August 16, 1936, according to Ray O'Neil, government statistician.

Future Farmers To Enter Exhibit In Brazos Fair

Future Farmers of Yoe high school will enter a community exhibit, an educational display, and numerous individual exhibits in the Brazos Valley Free Fair this fall, it has been agreed, and a number of products have already been selected for the fair. Every member of the Future Farmer chapter is urged to save one or more products for exhibits, James Leath, president and Kinnard Griffin, vice president, have said.

During the past two years Cameron FFA boys have won more than a hundred ribbons and two hundred dollars in cash prizes for the Chapter. The farm products will likely be shown at other fairs also, it was stated.

Wins Marathon

Leroy Colombo, famed deaf mute swimmer, who won the five-mile marathon swim held in the open gulf off Galveston Sunday. The first prize was $500. Colombo swam the five miles of surf water in the remarkable time of two hours and 36 minutes, finishing easily and 19 minutes ahead of his nearest competitor.

Colombo is the hero of the Galveston beach having an unofficial record of assisting in the rescue of 102 persons from drowning. He is a member of the Red Cross Volunteer Lifeguard Corps.

was only a local condition, and that many of the inhabitants of the region escaped to safety in the hills.

The presence of Noah at the scene is doubted by Dr. Woolley, who places the date of the flood at about 4000 B. C., while the Jews first came to Mesopotamia some 2,000 years later. The archaeologist belives that the Jews heard the legend of Noah. the ark and the dove from the Assyrians and adopted it as their own. In support of this view he pointed to Assyrian tablets which portray the story.

Anyway, 6,000 years is a long time back, and while most archaeologists agree that the popular idea of the flood is greatly exaggerated, it is doubtful whether we shall ever know just what happened around the Euphrates valley in that distant day.

It may be surprising to some to be told that for nearly 100 years after the Declaration of Independence no women were employed by the government, but such is the fact, according to a statement by the president of the Civil Service Commission.

The first law permitting the employment of women as clerks in Federal government offices was passed in 1870. Today more than 25,000 women are employed in such offices in Washington alone, while nearly 60,000 or more are employed outside of the capital city.

Women are being appointed to such government positions as bacteriologist, botanist, chemist, economist, patent examiner, pharmacologist, physicist, statistican, zoologist and technologists of various kinds and many women hold postmasterships. A woman is Secretary of Labor and several are court judges.

The employment of women in private business has shown a steady increase also, the number of women wage-earners being nearly ten million.

Whether this increasing activity of women in industry, business and the professions is an indication of an improved civilization depends upon one's view-point. However that may be, women have shown their ability to engage successfully in nearly every vocation under the sun, and that they will continue to do so can not be doubted.

An encouraging sign of progress of late is the appearance of an ability on the part of many to recognize habits which are harmful to their progress and well-being and change them for better.

Modern athletics are offering constant reminders of this ability. The consistent winners in sports events not only show adaptability in this way, but much of their success in actual competition hinges on their faculty for change in methods of performing. The same demand for flexibility exists in other walks of life, even if it is less obvious and peremptory.

George Bernard Shaw the world famous British playright and author, reveals the force of this reasoning in an account of his own habit changes. "I noticed in my youth," said he, "that my father ate indiscriminately, consuming large quantities of meat; that he smoked all day, drank alcohol and took no form of exercise. I saw that most men have the same habits as my father and most men are failures."

From that day Shaw ate no meat. He foreswore not only alcohol, but also tea and coffee, which he regards as only slightly less harmful. He constructed a revolving cabin in which he could follow the beneficent beams of the sun through all the daylight of the sun throughrdluupu daylight hours. He also saw to it that he had plenty of exercise.

Shaw is rearded by many as an extremist, but his physical well-being at the age of 80 are convincing arguments.

A building is under construction in this city for a negro nursery school, it has been announced by C. C. Comer of Austin, who is district supervisor of Emergency Education.

This will make the second nursery school in Cameron. A white nursery school has been successfully conducted here for about two years.

The negro nursery school is to be sponsored by a negro community nursery committee, which is composed of two representatives from each of the negro churches, lodges and other organizations. The government furnishes the teachers' salaries and food for the children.

The negro nursery is to have five workers. The nursery is working for an enrollment of not under 40 to 50 as a maximum. The ages are two, three and four years.

RACE TRACK FILM HAS NOVEL THEME

The power of superstition to dominate its victim's every act is revealed in "You Can't Buy Luck," a forthcoming story of the race-track with Onslow Stevens and Helen Mack in the leading roles, and Satuday Preview screen attraction at the Cameron Theatre.

In his role of race-horse owner, Stevens' charities are many and widespread, and are motivated solely by the superstitious belief that they will bring good luck to his stable. He is unable to rid himself of these ideas even when he falls in love, and the girl remonstrates with him about his superficial slant on philanthropy. Not until he becomes involved in a murder mystery, and his life is placed in jeopardy, does he change his views and realize that charity should be practiced solely for its own sake.

The supporting cast includes Vinton Haworth, Maxine Jennings, Hedda Hopper, Paul Guilfoyle, Murray Alper, Dudley Clements, Frank M. Thomas, Barbara Pepper, Richard Lane, Edgar Norton and others.

Martin Mooney wrote the story, and collaborated with Arthur T. Horman on the screen adaptation. Lew Landers directed the film for RKO Radio and Maury Cohen supervised the production.

Fruit Shortage Among Milam Farm Families Reported

Figures compiled in 1937 show that less than one-sixth of the rural farm families have a supply of home grown fruit, and 4-H club girls all over the state are working to help overcome this unfortunate condition.

The Milam County 4H club girls have been primarily interested this year in getting enough peach and plum trees for their family use. The reports obtained from eleven clubs show that of the 107 families represented by them, 77 have orchards. Twenty-four of these orchards were put out this year as a result of the 4H club work.

The reports from these clubs also show planted 557 budded and seedling peach trees, 290 budded and seedling plum trees; 24 pecan trees; 99 fig cuttings, 72 other fruit trees (apples, apricot and pear,) 122 berry vines and 12 grape cuttings. Besides these trees, there have been planted, 1,781 peach seed and 221 plum seed.

Many farmers think that because they rent their farms they cannot plant orchards, but the 4H club girls do not believe this. Of the 77 families having orchards, 38 own their farm, while 39 rent theirs; of the 24 families putting out orchards this year, 10 own their farms, while 14 rent theirs.

Persons who plan to plant orchards this year should choose their site now and get it plowed deeply and terraced before the fall rains. If their site is where live stock can reach it, it will need to be fenced before the trees can be planted.

"BANKERS' HOURS"

...Are Not What They Seem to Be

Many people think that a banker's day starts late and ends early—that a banker spends very little time in actual banking. These people have no conception of the tremendous amount of labor necessary to keep the bank's affairs in the absolutely balanced state that they must be. Millions of clerical operations keep the bank's business in perfect order, night and day—and they are mostly done after the doors have been closed for the day. And then think of the constant 24-hour guard the bank keeps on your money— as efficient as if a cordon of police surrounded it by night and day. No, bankers' hours are not easy hours. They are the long hours needed to build up an institution to which you can point with pride and say "MY bank!"

CROP CONTROL

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.

Crop control in the last analysis means people control. It means just what it says. Control of the amount and kind of crops that the government is to allow the farmer to plant. Crop control means that the government shall not only have the right to say what kind of crops the farmer may plant, but it shall have right to say how manw acres of any crop may be planted and the government is to have the right to say when you, Mr. Farmer, shall plant it.

Once the crop control idea is again put in motion by law, the live stock industry will again become involved and we will go to killing pigs and cattle again. As a result, beef and pork will again, as it is now, become high and the consuming masses will feel the oppressive burden of high prices.

When we start to talking about the virtues of crop control, let us not forget the good old democratic principle of the greatest good to the greatest number. If the price of agricultural products are to be raised and maintained by government loans or subsidy, then the consuming public becomes the victim of an unfair discrimination by the few against the many.

If it is right for the government to raise the rice of cotton by a loan to the producer, then ought not the government fix a marimum price of clothes so that both partices many get the benefit of government aid?

It occurs to me that at a time when there are millions unemployed, ill fed and underclothed, that is no time for the government to be doing that which will add to the ills which afflict us. What this world needs just now is a bountiful supply of meat, bread and clothes. We can endure a surplus far easier than we can starvation. The crop speculators are not going to let the farmers and ranchmen get any profit out of crop control. They never have and never will.

While cotton is still bringing better than 9 cents, I think our cotton farmer friends ought to sell their cotton and thereby save the interest and exense of a cotton crop control program. It may be that the price will yet go lower. If there is really a big crop made, lower prices must prevail and the government can't prevent it. If the price goes higher, the farmer has not lost any real money and he has escaped the hazards of cotton speculation.

Suppose the farmer 60 days ago had borrowed $60 a bale which is now worth only $45? Would he not now be in an awful fix? We must not lose sight of the fact that the farmer is not a crop speculator and should not be. And moreover, we must return to sanity and again remember that the government is not a speculating concern and should not be. It was established for another purpose.

The crop control idea is wrong. It is unwise speculation and sooner or later it will impair the liberty of the people and the financial foundation of the government. Let us preserve one and avoid the other.

Liquor and Smoke Pay Pensions To Aged People

When Mr. John Q. Citizen goes down to the court house to pay his ad valorem taxes once a year, he is not contributing to the suport of the needy aged although he may think he is doing so.

Figures from the auditing division of the Old Age Assistance Commission this week showed that cigarettes are the largest state source of assistance revenue, with liquor wine and beer next.

Income from state sources for the period from Nov. 1, 1936, when the present law went into effect, through July 31, 1937, was the following: cigarette stamp tax and permit fees, $3,203,934.07; tax on vending machines, $301,494.31 liquor, wine and beer stamp tax, sales and permit fees, $3,200,469.95; amusement tax and license on parimutuel, $257,345.28.

Where does the pension dollar come from? How much of each payment to an old person is supplied by the liquor tax? What part of each old age assistance dollar comes from cigarette taxes?

These questions were answered this week by the statistical division of the Old Age Assistance Commission.

Of a dollar paid out in the form of old Aage assistance, 50 cents is put up by the federal government to match 50 cents paid by the state. The state's 50 cents, based on Nov. 1, 1936, through July 31, 1937, revenues was derived as follows: 23 cents from cigarette taxes, 2 cents from tax on vending machines, 23 cents from liquor, wines and beer taxes, one-fifth of a cent from the amusement tax, one and four-fifth cents from the tax and license on parimutuel.

FATHER AND SON ARE BURIED HERE MONDAY

A father, Louis Orsag and his eldest son, August Orsag, 18, lying side by side in grey caskets, Monday, bespoke a tragedy almost unbearable for a wife and mother.

Only 36 hours had flown between the death of the two. The father in death, as in life, led the way, into the Great Beyond.

Tribute is Paid

Rev. George Apel, pastor of St. Monica's church conducted the double funeral service Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Oak Hill cemetery. Judge Graham Gillis paid tribute to the father and son:.. "Louis Orsag was a good man and when we say a man is a good man, we pay him the highest tribute. He was a good husband and a father, one who extended the arms of loving care around his children and provided for them. He was a good friend, one that could be depended upon, and was worthy of the name of friend. Orsag was a good citizen, obedient to the laws of his country and discharged the duties as a good citizen would. His family could point to him with pride, and if his eldest son had grown to full manhood, he would no doubt have followed in the steps of his father and also been a good man," Gillis said in his talk.

Pall bearers for Louis Orsag were: Joe Novotny, John Kratochvil, Bob Lange, Tom Mirka, F. Plachy and Louis Faichtinger. The six youths who were pall bearers for young Orsag were: Joe Gerick, Alford Gerick, Edward Sheppard, Joe Novotny, Jr., Frank Jakel and Leonard Mraz.

Killed In Wreck

Louis Orsag died instantly Saturday night from a broken neck and a broken and crushed right leg in a car accident on highway 77 and 44, near the Dusek filling station. August and Arnold Orsag, 15, were riding with their father at the time of the accident. August Orsag was carried to the Cameron Hospital and was first reported to have only three broken fingers and cuts and bruises. Upon further examination, it was discovered he had a fractured skull, and in a short time became unconscious, dying at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning. Arnold Orsag escaped uninjured from the accident.

Officers reported that the Orsag car turned over about six times after the right front wheel of the Orsag car struck the left back wheel, knocking the hub cap off of a car driven by Neely Meyers. Both cars were going north.

Born At Buckholts

Louis Orsag was a farmer on the Watt place, at Splawn, about four miles north of Cameron. He was born and reared near Buckholts. Twenty years ago, he was married to Miss Frances Provazek.

August Orsag was the first child born to this union.

Surviving Louis Orsag is his widow, two sons, Aronld and Leon; four brothers, Will Orsag, Buckholts; Joe Orsag, Cameron; Pete Orsag, Salem; Frank Orsag, Sharp; three sisters, Mrs. Max Krall, East Bernard; Miss Sophie Orsag, Buckholts; Mrs. R. D. Provaseky, Buckholts.

Nearly a half century ago the present building was erected. Pioneers hauled in the lumber from distant yards. Since then the people of all faiths have had a bond of common co-operation for the upkeep of the building. There has been a church and school at Conoley since 1867.

Older Than Thorndale

The Conoley settlement is older by far than the city of Thornnale, which was established when the first train rolled over the rails of the old International and Great Northern railroad in July of 1876.

At the time of the first train a small community called Leverett was located a short distance from the present site of Thorndale and in time was named Thorndale.

Pioneers

Among the pioneers who are identified with the construction of the first church were: Jess Street, A. H. Conoley, J. L. Siles, A. W. Stiles who was the father of Mrs. Hilry Steadman in Cameron; J. B. Wills and Ed. Struggs.

The recently elected trustees for the church are: W. D. Stiles, J. D. Campbell, Knox Conoley, F. C. Stiles, A. L. Sheppard.

The public is invited and cordially urged to attend the supper Saturday night.

way. The perspective of time has added new values to his story, which are brought into strong relief through the medium of the camera.

Because of what he wrote in "The Road Back," Remarque was exiled from his native land, so strongly did his book stir national feeling. The author saw the unrest growing, saw the revolution that followed food riots, saw returned soldiers facing the trap of starvation.

Remarque saw the wives whose husbands never came back; saw the sweethearts who did not wait for the return of the men they had promised to marry. He saw turmoil, human drama being lived every day. He put into his story, "The Road Back," everything that he saw. He described the emotions of vibrant flesh-and-blood people. The characters were ready to step out of the book and into a movie set.

For six years Universal held the story, until the time was ripe for "The Road Back" to be shown in theatres throughout the country. Then James Whale was assigned to direct the picture. He had previously done an excellent job with a number of movies, including "Show Boat" and "Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff, author of "Journey's End," turned out the screen play with Charles Kenyon.

The cast includes Barbra Read, John King, Richard Cromwell, Slim Summerville, Andy Devine, Louise Fazenda, Noah Beery, Jr., Maurice Murphy, John Emery, Etinne Girardot, Lionel Atwill, Henry Hunter, Larry Blake, Gene Garrck, Gerta Gynte, Spring Byington, Laura Hope Crews, Frank Reicher and Jean Rouverol.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy to us at the loss of our loved ones, Louis and August Orsag. We will always remember your beautiful floral offerings and deeds of kindness with feeling of comfort.

We wish also to thank the Doctors who served so faithfully, and the nurses in the Cameron Hospital.

ten men in the Houston zone to formulate policies.

Of especial interest now is the much prized system of a separate shop for reconditioned cars. Where dealers have large contracts separate garages are maintained under direction of factory trained men who do nothing but recondition cars. Mr. Grabein combines his regular garage department with recondition service.

Plan Is Success

Dealers who have tried the new plan find that the used car business becomes profitable at once and the quality of service is materially improved. The theory is proven that men specially trained in the art of remodeling cars for the used market do better jobs and produce better used cars.

Salemanship methods were discussed and Mr. Grabein was in position to offer good suggestions on successful plans.

This honor for Mr. Grabein is appreciated by his friends and the Houston zone manager, Mr. Hancock is glad to have him a member of the Committee of Ten.

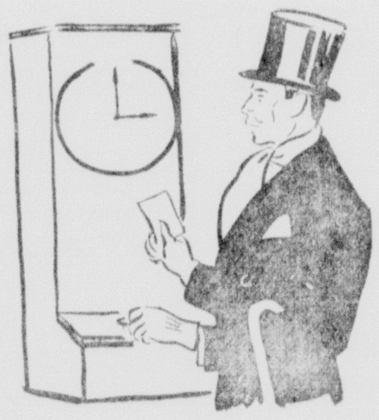
"BANKERS' HOURS"

...Are Not What They Seem to Be



Many people think that a banker's day starts late and ends early—that a banker spends very little time in actual banking. These people have no conception of the tremendous amount of labor necessary to keep the bank's affairs in the absolutely balanced state that they must be. Millions of clerical operations keep the bank's business in perfect order, night and day—and they are mostly done after the doors have been closed for the day. And then think of the constant 24-hour guard the bank keeps on your money— as efficient as if a cordon of police surrounded it by night and day. No, bankers' hours are not easy hours. They are the long hours needed to build up an institution to which you can point with pride and say "MY bank!"

area in Texas. During recent years melon and tomato growing has become one of the leading agricultural industries of the county. Before the wide use of the motor truck came to pass, Milano Junction shipped annually some 300 carloads of melons and cantelopes. Each year this type of farming has by reason of its ready cash crops been widely extended so that, for the year 1937, the various crops harvested from the sand country in the eastern part of Milam County will total almost one-third of the entire income from the crops of the county.

The system of good highway touching this section of farm lands makes it possible for the produce of these farm lands makes it possible for the produce of these farms to reach the markets in the best possible time.

Woodlanw and Streams

Milam County is an area of woodlands and streams and this section is largely to be found along the eastern bank of Little River and bordering the Brazos River to the boundary at Robertson County. Livestock in this section does well and at the present time all lands not in cultivation are well stocked and farmers will not only reap a rich harvest from their productions of vegetbles and fruits but will realize good profits on livestock.

Cotton Is King

The more profitable farming territory for heavy agricultural crops is that vast region running from Thorndale on the south western border of the county, west to the Bell County line and north to Falls County and bordering Little River. Like many of the larger agricultural counties of Texas, cotton is the major money crop. Based upon present indications it is estimated that Milam County will produce around 50,000 bales. The annual crop of the county is approximately 60,000 bales. The largest crop on record was produced in 1920 when the county harvested around 80,000 bales. At present prices it is estimated that Milam County's cotton crop this year will be sold for approximately three and a quarter million dollars.

Diversification

Institution of the government farm program has resulted in deversification of crops in the black land region of the county. As a result of this, a hitherto unprofitable farm production has become profitable. Now farmers are finding that they can dispose of surplus feed crops on a ready market and at the same time have sufficient feed from their own need. It is estimated that the 1937 feed crop in Milam County, which consists principally of corn, sorghum, heigar and maize will bring farmers more than a million dollars in cash sales and the feeding and marketing of livestock.

Largest Trench Silo

The largest trench silo in the world is located in Milam County on the R. L. Batte farm. During recent years farmers under the influence of government experiments have come to regard the trench silo as the best possible solution of the feed problem for dairy cattle and the feeding of meat cattle for the market.

Better Livestock

In addition to the salable agricultural crops of the county, during recent years farmers have come to engage more extensively in the production of a better grade of livestock. It is estimated that at the present time there are some 25,000 head of cattle in Milam County and in proportion, the farmers have hogs and other farm animals. The farm situation in Milam County is one over which there is much encouragement from the old one-crop sytem, although Milam County will never abandon her rich heritage of cotton production. There has grown up steadly over a period of years a balanced farm program. Through the influence of government agencies such as the County and Home Demonstration Agents for both white and colored, Milam County's pantry is ever bursting with good food products put up from home production on the farm. This condition of self-reliance on the part of the farmers results each year in greater profits from crops because the live at home plan has literally come to pass in Milam County. The value of these home productions for home consumption is estimated to be valued at more than $200,000.

Soil Variety

The peculiar soil structure of Milam County gives farmers the advantage of being able to produce practically every known variety of food and market crops and, because of this condition, the county is able to assimilate and sustain its great rural population and remain one of the most productive agricultural regions in the world.

Dairy Cows

After long years the county has at last come to realize the value of dairy cows. Through the influence of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce and the cooperation of progressive communities, there was instituted in 1936 a dairy program for the entire county which terminated in the construction of a cheese plant at Cameron and the establishment of milk routes all over the county, carrying milk not only to the central plant at Cameron but to plants located in adjacent counties. It is believed that within the next 5 years the annual income to farmers from the sale of butter fat will rival the amount received from any given division of our agriculture with the exception of cotton.

Brazos Control Necessary

The most hopeful indication of permanent prosperity in the great river and stream valleys of Milam County is the completion of the Elm Creek Erosion Project and the construction of dams on the tributaries of and the Brazos River. The annual toll of crop damage is enormous. The waters of the Lampasas, Leon, San Gabriel and other streams empty into the Little River, making it the largest tributary of the Brazos. When flood-control reservoirs are constructed on the upper regions of the Brazos and its tributaries, Milam County will be able to reclaim thousands of acres of lands devastated by floods and place them back into production, thus insuring a permanent, large income from the now hazardous farm operations in certain sections of the bottoms.

Tractors

During the past five years there has been a noticeable trend to the use of the tractor and power machinery on farms. Although there still remain thousands of head of fine work animals on the farms, the farmers are gradually adopting more scientific methods of production. Cameron is one of the largest distributing points for farm machienry in the state of Texas.

Cameron is situated in the heart of the cotton country and because it has the advantages of railroad and compress facilities, it profits more largely than any town in this particular region from this crop.

Poultry

From a humble beginning many years ago, poultry has become one of the giants of income. There are many farmers who own small tracts of land, especially in the sand country, who devote their entire time to the production of poultry. The annual egg and poultry crop in Milam County is very large. There has been a noticable trend to better fowls and the institution of courses in Vocational Agriculture in schools at Cameron, Rockdale, Thorndale, Sharp, San Gabriel and Buckholts has resulted in enlightenment heretofore unknown in the development of one of our most important farm engagements. Packing houses and dressing plants together with numerous buyers representing some of the nation's largest packers maintain plants and offices in Cameron. Milam County is rapidly becoming the egg basket of Texas.

Poultry shows, the judging of poultry and the enlistment of students from the farms in agricultural classes indicate that the future farmer of Milam County will not only know how to raise and market poultry and livestock but will be a genius in the cultivation of our rich, illuvial soils.

Cameron

Cameron, the counnty seat of Milam County, was a struggling village of sprawling log huts on the banks of Little River before Sam Houston fought the battle of San Jacinto and won Texas independence. The Milam land grant was in its original survey and area larger than the state of Vermont. In the background of the history of Cameron are many of the rich and historical traditions of Texas. Through the years it has grown and today is one of the commercially important cities of Central Texas with bank resources totaling over five million dollars. It is a city of home owners, of schools, churches, and it's environs are desirable. It is a place that offers to the home seeker every advantage we value in our estimation of what constitutes the better social and economic atmosphere.

Sam James, 76, and Mrs. James, 19, residents of Wymore, Neb., recently became the parents of a son.

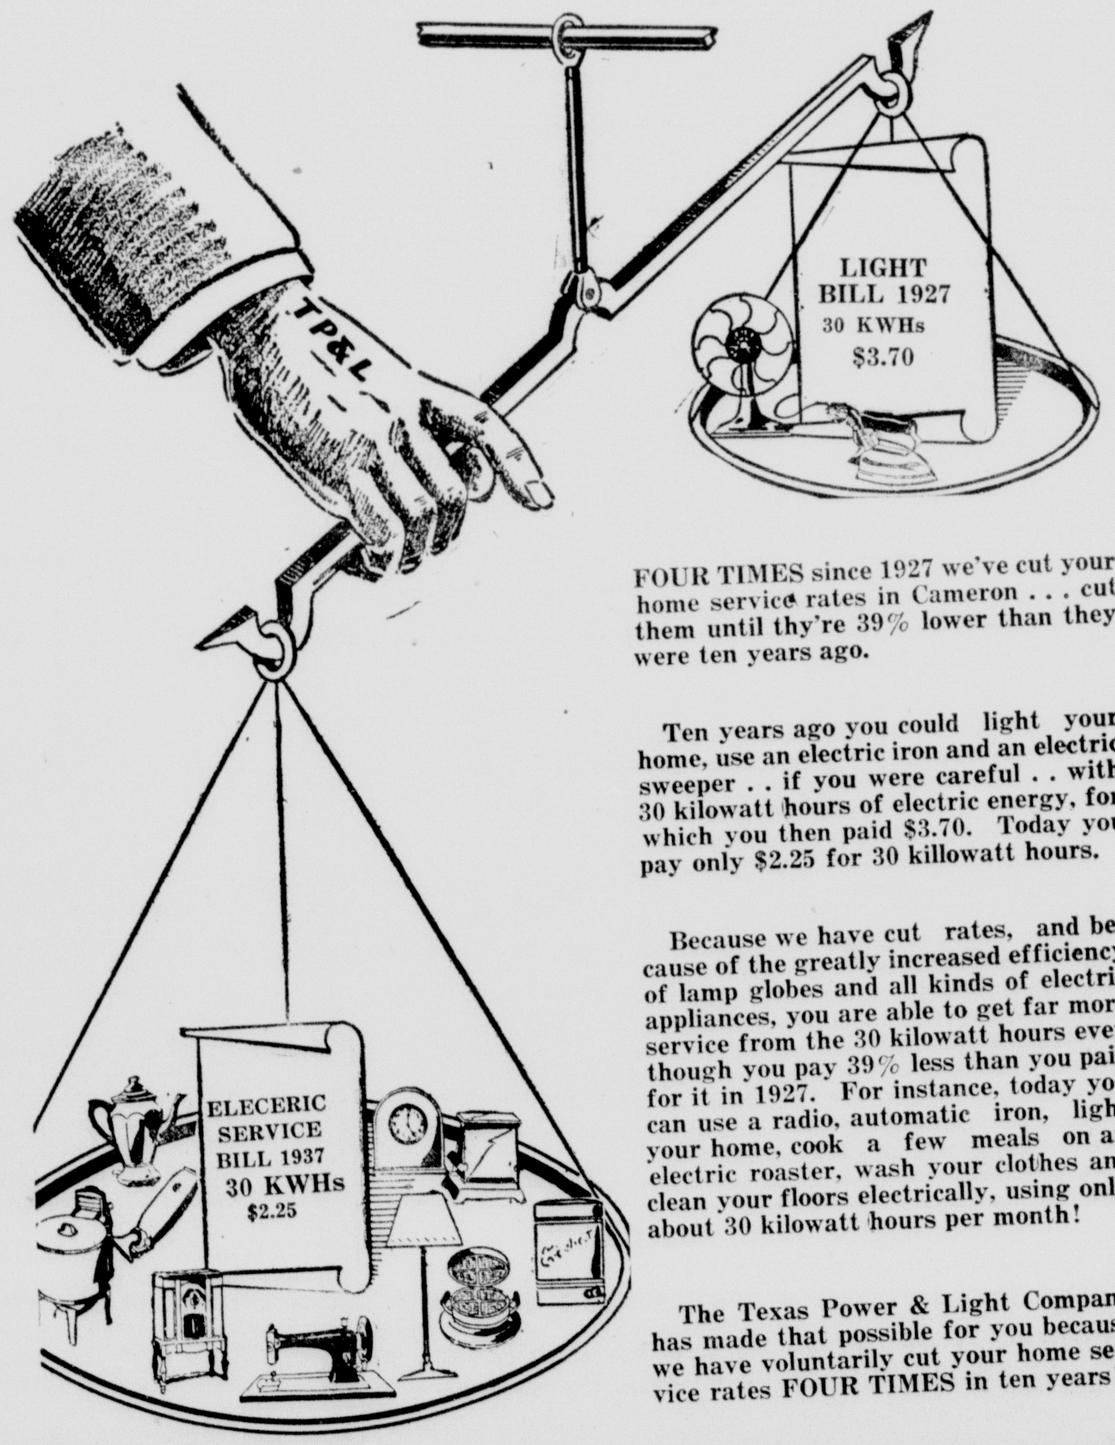
We CUT YOUR HOME ELECTRIC SERVICE RATES!



FOUR TIMES since 1927 we've cut your home service rates in Cameron . . . cut them until thy're 39% lower than they were ten years ago.

Ten years ago you could light your home, use an electric iron and an electric sweeper . . if you were careful . . with 30 kilowatt hours of electric energy, for which you then paid $3.70. Today you pay only $2.25 for 30 killowatt hours.

Because we have cut rates, and because of the greatly increased efficiency of lamp globes and all kinds of electric appliances, you are able to get far more service from the 30 kilowatt hours even though you pay 39% less than you paid for it in 1927. For instance, today you can use a radio, automatic iron, light your home, cook a few meals on an electric roaster, wash your clothes and clean your floors electrically, using only about 30 kilowatt hours per month!

The Texas Power & Light Company has made that possible for you because we have voluntarily cut your home service rates FOUR TIMES in ten years!

We're in the business of public service . . . and we know it. We can't permit ourselves to look at things just for today. We must look ahead . . . look ahead for you . . . keeping your good will . . . and, at the same time keeping this Company, your electric service company, sound and active both as a good citizen and a business institution of this city. You're getting more and better service from your electric service company than from any other single source on earth . . . all because of our voluntary rate cuts for you!

Rustler's Valley is Milam's Offering

One of the West's most famous "ghost towns," a once flourishing frontier town high in the Mother Lode country, now occupied by a mere handful of residents, was used as the locale in filming "Rustlers' Valley," latest of the popular "Hopalong Cassidy" outdoor action stories which comes to the Milam Theatre Friday and Saturday.

The town is Columbia, California, whose streets once echoed to the gun shots of bad men, gamblers and fortune hunters, and whose buildings looked down on the motley horde of adventurers, pioneers and "drifters" lured to the West by the magic cry of "Gold!"

That was during the roaring forties and fighting fifties, when Columbia was considered so important a municipality in California that it was named as the site for the state capitol and missed that honor by but one vote in the Legislature. But that was long ago, before the gold gave out and modern mining methods made it impractical to mine what was left.

Prosperity, romance and color left Columbia deserted and forgotten, a veritable ghost of a city of old buildings and deserted streets. Progress has not disturbed Columbia nor has modernity erased any of its characteristics which made of it a typical frontier town of the last century. That's why Director Nate Watt selected it as the site for "Rustlers' Valley."

The action in "Rustlers' Valley," which is another story by Clarence E. Mulford, noted writer of the West and its lore, and which brings William Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden to the screen again as "Hopalong," "Windy" and "Lucky," is centered mainly around Columbia. In the story the town is the headquarters for an unscrupulous banker who is out to snatch land from ranchers. He knows the land is to be purchased by the government for a dam site and he doesn't hesitate to resort to rustling and frame-ups to attain his ends.

It is up to "Hoppy" to clear the name of his buddy, "Lucky," who was framed by the banker, and to rid the countryside of his ilk. This he does in his characteristic mile a minute fashion.

The cast of "Rustlers' Valley" also includes Muriel Evans, who was seen in "Three on the Trail" and "Call of the Prairie," two pervious screen adventures of "Hoppy." Stephen Morris, John Beach, Lee Cobb and Ted Adams are also in the east.

In an article in American weights and measures, Wickes Wambolt declared several of our prevailing units including the exact length of an inch, have never been officially established by Congress. Perhaps that accounts for the amazing flexibility of the TVA "yardstick."

PERKINS NOW IN JAIL AT MARLIN

L. Van Perkins is in the Marlin jail, but may be taken to the federal prison at El Reno, Oklahoma, where he will stay until December, when the parole board at Washington can give Mr. Perkins a hearing, it was said here.

Perkins, who was sent to El Reno in 1934 for illegally tampering with compensation checks of World War veterans, served 18 months of his three year term and was paroled. He was re-arrested here about two weeks ago by a federal officer who said Perkins was charged with violating his parole.

Waco Business Men Here Tuesday September 14th

On Tuesday September 14 the Chamber of Commerce in Waco will send a delegation of business men to Cameron on the annual trade trip.

J. R. Hays, president of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, has been notified of the visit here by W. V. Crawford, manager of the Waco club Women of the Christian church will serve lunch to the visitors and Cameron business men wish to attend the luncheon.

Mr. Hays said that around 60 business men were expected for the luncheon.

What is undoubtedly the world's longest row of cotton grows on the farm of M. T. Daniel of Wofforth, Texas. It is planted in a spiral around a small lake in a big field, and is estimated to be 413 miles long.

In New York City it is against the law to open or close an umbrella in the presence of a horse.

for Women only

CARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

RATE CUTTING AXE!

WE'VE still got our Rate-Cutting Axe. And we'll use it again! We don't "peg" our rates. We cut them when, and as we can . . . voluntarily! We've demonstrated that over a period of time . . . through good years and bad years.

You understand, of course, when you stop to think about it, that we, as your public servant, must keep our service ready for you all the time, night and day, regardless of conditions! We, on the other hand, understand that you want to buy your electric service just as cheaply as you can. Between us, then, there should be mutual confidence and understanding.

When it becomes possible for us to cut rates and still maintain the type of service required of us and desired by you . . . we'll do so! We'll do it without fuss or bother. Voluntarily. When you get right down to brass tacks . . . that's what you want.

Today, we're delivering a far better electric service to you than any isolated light plant is capable of giving. Because of our voluntary rate cuts in the past this service is costing you less, in proportion, than any other item in your cost of living.

Remember this: We don't "peg" electric service rates!

5c Tax Hike to Pay Salaries In County

A tax increase of 5c on the $100 valuation in the county was made by the Commissioners Court to bolster the general fund from which salaries of county officials are paid. Voters in Milam County authorized the increase when they voted to retain the salary system in the face of warning that an increase would be necessary. The statement follows:

The Commissioners Court, after having advertised in the various papers of Milam County that there would be a public hearing on the budget for 1938, on Wednesday, August 25, at 9 a. m. adopted the budget prepared by the County Auditor and County Judge, as required by law. It might be of interest to state that there was only one person to hear the budget reod and he was Justice of the Peace of an adjoining precinct.

The Court found it necessary to make expensive repairs on the roof of the court house and jail, as recommended by the Grand Jury and the District Judge, and also finding that the officers salary fund was not self-sustaining, found it necessary to make an increase in tax rate of 5c, making the rate 75c, with the hope that same can be reduced another year.

They were glad to find that reduction could be made in some of the road districts, viz: No. 5, Gause, reduced from 40 to 30; No. 8, Buckholts, reduced from 50 to 45; No. 10, Rockdale, reduced from 50 to 30; No. 16, Clarkson, from 65 to 60, No. 29, Milano, from 90 to 80.

A few changes were necessary in the school district rate, the changes made were by the vote of the people. No. 8, San Gabriel, was increased from 75 to 87; No. 55, Yarrellton, was decreased from 75 to 60; No. 56, North Elm, was decreased from 75 to 50; No. 47(Talbott Ridge, was increased from 20 to 50.

Nearby Farms Are Requested for Soil Erosion Work

Soil erosion, one of the most serious farm problems affecting Milam County, will be studied carefully and methods of control will be practiced by all first year students of Vocational Agriculture during the coming school session. Terracing, strip cropping, gully control, and crop rotation to include legumes, will be the phases to be stressed and members of the Vocational Agriculture classes will be given practice work on nearby farms, E. D. Parnell, Vocational Teachers, reports.

Farms not more than 4 miles from Cameron to practice on, are needed, Parnell says, and he would like for those needing such work to get in touch with the Vocational department soon in order that preliminary work may begin early in September. Those farms where a complete program of erosion control is practiced are the ones students most interested in, Parnell said.

Terracing is only part of erosion control and more complete control systems are needed to save the soil and water that is otherwise lost.

TO DEDICATE BRIDGE OVER SAN GABRIEL

A new bridge, across a slough in the San Gabriel bottom, built under the direction of Commissioner E. G. Stiles was finished Thursday and a formal opening of the brigde was held at 7 p. m.

Short addresses were made by County Julge Jeff T. Kemp and Commissioner E. G. Stiles. The first two cars to cross the bridge were filled with pioneers of San Gabriel and the vicinity. One car was driven by Judge Jeff T. Kemp, which contained A. M. Camp, E. Cass and Mrs. James Clark, all of San Gabriel. The other car being driven by V. F. Norris, postmaster of Thorndale, contained Mr. and Mrs. Sam Locklin and Ernest Richter, all of Thorndale.

The crowd present was treated to a watermelon feast provided by Commissioner E. G. Stiles. The melons were very fine and were raised on the farm of Kinchan Campbell of Conoley.

An unnamed automobile purchaser of New Lexington, O., paid for a car with a sack containing 900 half dollars. The sack weighed almost 30 pounds.

"Go Getter" Cappy Ricks Story Opens At Cameron Sat.

That irascible but lovable old seafaring characater created by Peter B. Kyne—Cappy Ricks—comes to life on the screen in the Cosmopolitan comedy-drama "The Co-Getter," which opens at the Cameron on Sept. 4th.

Charles Winninger, well remembered as the Cap'n Andy of both stage and screen versions of "Show Boat," plays Cappy in this delightful movie.

He isn't the "go getter." That individual is the tall, handsome Irish star George Brent, who is in love with Cappy's daughter, portrayed by the lovely blonde star, Anita Louise. George and Anita carry the romantic interest of the show. But neither—nor both—can steal away the audience's affection for old Cappy.

It is an exceptional well-balanced cast that portrays this famous yarn of Mr. Kyne's. Apart from the starring trio, there are such players as Henry O'Neill, John Eldredge, Joseph Crehan, Gordon Oliver, Eddie Acuff, Herbert Raylinson, Mary Treen, Helen Lowell, Helen Valkis and Minerva Urecal.

Brent is member of the crew of the famous dirigible Macon, which plunged into the Pacific Ocean a few years ago.

This plunge is shown on the screen—one of the most astonishing things the movies have ever done. Bill Austin—the character played by Brent—loses a leg in the accident, is mustered out of the Navy, and must find himself a job in civil life. That's how he meets up with Cappy Ricks and Cappy's daughter.

He is put through all sorts of tests by Cappy and the girl before he wins them both over. But he does win them, and that's the story of "The Go Getter."

An ocean-going honeymoon from which the bride and groom swim home is one of the best comedy scenes on the screen.

The picture was directed by Busby Berkeley from a screen play by Delmer Davies. It is highly recommended for the whole family.

12C PRICE IS FIXED FOR AMERICAN COTTON

Washington, Aug. 30.—Loans of nine cents a pound will be made on the 1937 cotton crop, Secretary Wallace announced today. In addition, each grower participating in next year's production control program will be eligible for a maximum subsidy of 3 cents a pound on 65 per cent of this year's basic production.

The Commodity Credit corporation will make 9 cents loans on cotton classing 7-8 inch middling cotton, or better; 8 cents on cotton classing 13-16 inch staple, and middling or better in grade: 7 3-4 cents on cotton classing 7-8 inch as to staple but under middling as to grade.

To Buoy Up Prices

The purpose is to buoy up prices of cotton. Sagging prices promoted legislators to demand loan-subsidies at the last session of congress.

A condition of each loan is that the producer- borrower agrees to participate in the 1938 adjustment program.

No loan will be made on 7-8 inch cotton or better in stale which is of grade not deliverable on contract under the regulations of the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges and no loan will be made on 13-16 inch cotton under middling grade.

Loans will bear interest of 4 per cent and mature July 31, but cotton must be stored in warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit corporation to be elibible for loans. Loans, it was announced, will be available "as soon as necessary arranements can be completed," but not later than September 15.
